Corporations, LLCs, professionals, investors, and high net worth families place their trust in Robert Mitchell to protect their vital interests in important litigation matters.

FOR MORE THAN THREE DECADES, Robert Mitchell has enjoyed a remarkable civil and commercial litigation practice that has featured a string of successful outcomes, including:

- achieving a record $38.5 million internet defamation verdict, featured on the front page of THE WALL STREET JOURNAL, for a prominent Los Angeles real estate investor;
- representing hundreds of investors against major investment firms and trust companies, recovering millions of dollars in damages for his clients;
- recovering millions more in a Ponzi securities fraud case against well-known Phoenix real estate professionals;
- winning a defense verdict for a highly successful securities broker wrongfully accused of real estate fraud;
- obtaining and collecting a multi-million-dollar judgment in an environmental contamination case involving a commercial real estate building;
- saving a 5,000-acre Hawaii ranch from a $50 million foreclosure and securing a settlement that preserved the ranch for its owners; and
- successfully defending an engineer wrongfully accused of causing $167 million in stock price declines to a major publicly traded company — another case that was covered in many national news publications at the time.

Robert Mitchell co-leads the commercial litigation practice at Phoenix-based Tiffany & Bosco P.A., providing decisive advocacy from offices across the country.

Taking on high-profile cases nationwide and working with local counsel as needed, Robert has successfully tried cases from Los Angeles to New York, from Seattle to Miami and various jurisdictions in between.

When not taking care of his clients, Robert enjoys personal time with his family and exploring the rugged beauty of the high desert.

"Most of my clients face complex legal problems that threaten the success it has taken them a lifetime to achieve," Robert recently noted. "Many are victims of financial wrongdoing, and they want a dedicated advocate who takes on their burden as his own.

"I treat my clients as my close friends, and their problems as my problems. I have enjoyed the heartfelt hugs and gracious expressions of appreciation many times over the years, and that is the reward that keeps me coming back and striving for more excellence in the representation of my clients."
